

THE ARGONAUTS

A space where conscious leaders connect, share and grow

Our world today is complex, constantly changing and accelerating with multiplying challenges that demand a reaction from us.

The Argonauts help raise the consciousness of leaders to increase global impact on the individual, community, organizational and planetary level.

We come together, rising to the responsibility of creating a sustainable and fulfilled future for all.

Our structured journey helps leaders build trust within organizations, navigate personal development and inspire change.

Leadership focused on transaction alone is no longer serving us, our communities, our organizations or our planet. We help transform business organisations in service of a sustainable and socially just world.

To manifest human aliveness, find our authentic selves, sustain our climate and sustainably grow our organizations, we focus as conscious leaders on what serves our human need for connection and the global need for conscious impact.

“The Argonauts are disrupting the status quo for a new mindset”

HOW

Hosted on our online platform, The Argonauts use conversational fluency - a tactic for connecting deeper without giving advice.

We come together as groups of 8 in monthly circles using elements of individual learning, experience sharing, peer mentoring and coaching.

OUR APPROACH

- Holistic (we work on the whole person)
- Decidedly eco-centric
- Deeply conscious

When conscious leaders come together, we help carve a path for how leaders in all sectors, across all organisations can mobilise with awareness, responsibility and empathy.

Conscious leadership enhances and empowers our journey to develop higher awareness for ourselves, our organizations and our planet.

As Argonauts, we rise to the responsibility of conscious leadership by connecting our inner development journey to practical outer actions that make conscious impact in the world.

Leaders often lack a safe space to talk openly and candidly with each other, to listen without judgement and to spend time reflecting deeply in order to self calibrate.

We create secure, confidential spaces for those missing conversations.

WHAT OUR MEMBERS SAY

"The Argonauts supported me all the way through not only an extremely emotional transition, but also a risk-taking process to a place where I now enjoy a real passion for doing business. From being at a point where I saw myself as completely alone, I suddenly knew I was in good company with all the Argonauts. Every contact I have been introduced to within and through this community is valued and has returned something of worth."

DRS. LOES FOKKER

Founder & CEO of Legacy Mentors
Amsterdam, Netherlands

"What I learned from the Argonauts is that there is no more valuable a thing than sitting regularly together with a diverse group of peers that know how to listen, communicate experience, and lead you to your own solutions. In all honesty, my Circle terrified me when they first called me up on my biggest challenges, but not only did they make it easy to open up and be totally frank, they helped me to solve the problems I thought were mine alone. I always thought that it is very lonely at the top, but now I know that it doesn't have to be."

MICHAEL GRANDJEAN

Executive VP & COO at GranCor Enterprises
New Mexico, USA

"Thanks to the Argonauts, I am now finally on a journey that fulfills me. Not that it is complete, or over, but that I am developing in the direction I want to. It is this continuation that gives me an ever-deepening sense of achievement."
